WOMEN OF HOPE

BUILDING UP AND MATURING WOMEN TO PREPARE THEM TO SERVE, UNITING THEM IN FAITH AND IN THEIR KNOWLEDGE OF JESUS CHRIST

EPHESIANS 4: 12-15

The Women of Hope is a ministry of the Good Hope Missionary Baptist Church that focuses on meeting the unique spiritual, emotional, and social needs of women from all generations. We provide a supportive and nurturing environment where women can grow in their faith, build meaningful relationships with Christ and with each other, and address the various challenges they face in their day to day living.

At the heart of our ministry is Women Discipling Women (WDW), a strategy dedicated to helping women experience the culture of our church by equipping, empowering and encouraging women to make disciples for Jesus Christ.

We provide a space where women can build authentic connections, provide mentorship in issues women face, address topics that resonate with women, and most importantly, give women the opportunity to both be discipled and make disciples of women who need and know Jesus Christ.

Women of Hope is committed to helping women grow spiritually, identify and conquer their strongholds, embrace their identities in Christ, and play a significant role in building the kingdom of Jesus Christ in the world through His church, the people of God. My husband, Dr. D. Z. Cofield, believes that women's ministry should focus on discipleship and community outreach and fully supports our efforts to shift from traditional models of having church to helping women be the church by having a more robust experience of growing in Christ, reaching others for Jesus and sharing God's love with the world.

I believe women can help each other grow best in the context of relationships. We have amazing women right here in our church. Our practicing Christian virtues with one another will make us stronger individually and collectively.

The Women of Hope will host events that empower women from every generation and every walk of life, helping them to grow spiritually and to connect with other women, so that each woman will discover and fulfill their purpose in life.

We are inviting all women interested in becoming a part of the Women of Hope to register using the QR code provided. We will be in contact with you in the coming weeks. We look forward to seeing all of you at our "Women of Hope Glo Up" event on May 18th at the Star of Hope Women's Center from 10:00 am – 1:00 pm.

Take care of yourselves and trust God. You matter!

Tori Cofield

Each year, we celebrate you in a variety of ways, but this year we'd like to salute you for the Queens that you are and the anchors you've become.

We Thank You - for being a light in the darkest of times. In your selflessness, you give without question or quarrel; yet, you are unafraid to advocate for your family to receive every opportunity they deserve.

We Esteem You – you are grace and elegance embodied, style and class combined. You are intellectual and affirming, but never far removed from accepting us for who we are.

A SALUTE TO OUR MOTHERS

We See You – even when others have not acknowledged your presence. We know you intercede on our behalf before our heavenly Father. You fight battles we can't begin to imagine. You balance between work and home and community and church, in a world that becomes increasingly divisive while you hold fast to Christian values.

How blessed we are, have been and will be, to call you our Mothers - from carrying us in the womb to carrying us in your heart. May this Mother's Day be the best yet. (Please know that you are admired and deeply loved. ~ Happy Mother's Day

CHECKS & BALANCES TAKING CARE OF YOUR MENTAL HEALTH

Many of us do a wonderful job of being good to our body. We've made great strides in including regular exercise, changing the way we eat and even taking good care of our skin. There have also been improvements in how we handle our finances as well as how we care for those around us. Yet, many people often overlook the importance of attending to our mental health.

To be honest, it's critical that we ensure there are checks and balances that allow us to care for ourselves holistically – because mental health is an essential part of maintaining wellness. May is Mental Health Awareness Month, and this year's theme is: "Where to Start: Mental Health in a Changing World." It serves as a reminder that though our landscape has changed, the need for health and wellness mentally has not.

It's also important that we ensure that we are emotionally in a good place because what happens in our mind notably impacts our body, in addition to those around us. In fact, 1 in 5 people are significantly affected by mental health issues all over the world, which often begins as early as age 14 – though it can start even earlier. As you make milestones in improving your health, make sure that your mental wellness is also a top priority. To learn more about what you can do and how you can help, visit www.mhanational.org. You'll be glad you did!

Ensuring Memorial Day Is an Event to Remember

MEMORIAL DAY

Each year, we take the time to commemorate those who made great sacrifices for our freedoms by defending our country, and for that we are forever grateful. With this in mind, there are countless ways to celebrate.

However, if you're looking to embark on other ways of honoring our heroes, here are a few you may not have considered:

Visit a National Park. Beholding the natural beauty of our country is a wonderful reminder to appreciate the brave people who fought to protect it.

Create Memorial Day Decorations – This is a great activity for individuals or to share with family and friends. Not to mention, it provides a phenomenal opportunity for powerful conversations.

Host a Patriotic Potluck – Design your menu with traditional items that have become a part of your culture as an American. Your favorites will undoubtedly hit a home run with your attendees.

Visit the Buffalo Soldiers Museum – This exemplary organization has a wealth of historical excellence that conveys the importance of African Americans' contributions to our country. You'll leave beaming with pride!

We can never say thanks enough for the heart and passion that went into making our country a better place. Countless lives were lost in hopes of improving and protecting our future. Let's continue to celebrate and honor those heroes, past, present and future. Happy Memorial Day!
